

Fall 2026 Merck/Purdue Recruiting Event

Representatives from Merck's Sterile Product Development (SPD), Formulation, Laboratory and Experimentation (FLEx) Center, and Device Development organizations will be visiting Purdue University from September 14-16, 2026 to engage with students, faculty, and prospective candidates. Our team will be available throughout the week to discuss career opportunities, internships, co-ops, postdoctoral positions, and full-time roles across research, development, manufacturing, and engineering functions.

Join us during our campus outreach activities, technical seminar, and Purdue Industrial Roundtable events to learn more about Merck, our technologies, and how you can contribute to the development of medicines and vaccines that improve and save lives.

Please visit jobs.merck.com to see a complete list of openings, job descriptions and to apply online before the posting end date.

Please use keywords (e.g. formulation, device, chemical engineering, interns, or scientists).
